Applying for Admission

College of Law Admissions Standards and Policies

The College of Law’s admissions policies are consistent with the objectives of its educational program and are designed to enroll the most qualified applicants and a diverse student body. The College of Law will not admit applicants who do not appear capable of satisfactorily completing its legal education program.

An applicant to the College of Law must have a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university and a satisfactory undergraduate record. An application for admission filed during the final year of undergraduate studies, prior to receiving a degree, can be approved by the College of Law, subject to the applicant’s receipt of the degree prior to matriculation in the College of Law. Also, an applicant must present a satisfactory score on the Law School Admission Test (LSAT). If taken multiple times, the highest score will be used.

The selection process is based on a number of different factors. The two principal factors are the applicant’s cumulative undergraduate GPA and LSAT score. Other factors that may be considered include: undergraduate and graduate institutions; cumulative graduate GPA; majors and/or disciplines; activities in school and professional organizations; community service; and employment experiences.

The College of Law has two application processes: Regular Decision and Early Decision.

For Regular Decision applicants, the College of Law conducts a rolling admissions process and applicants are notified of their admission status once their application files are complete. All applicants are encouraged to apply as early as possible during the admission cycle.

Applicants who have concluded that Belmont is their first-choice for law school can select an Early Decision option. The Early Decision option requires candidates to apply no later than December 1 and complete their application by January 15. Within two weeks of the time their applications are complete, Early Decision candidates will be notified either of their admittance, denial, or deferral for further review with the Regular Decision applicants. Early Decision candidates may apply to other law schools, but are not permitted to apply to other binding early decision programs. Admitted Early Decision candidates agree to immediately withdraw their applications at other law schools, refrain from submitting new applications, submit a non-refundable seat deposit of $500 (which will be applied to your fall semester tuition) within 30 days of being accepted into the Early Decision program, and to matriculate to Belmont University’s College of Law. Early Decision candidates who are deferred for further review to the Regular Decision cycle will no longer be bound by the terms of the Early Decision agreement. The College of Law reserves the right to provide other law schools with the names of candidates admitted through the binding Early Decision program.

Application Steps for College of Law (J.D.) Applicants

1. Complete the entire Graduate and Professional Programs Degree Seeking Application thoroughly. An incomplete application cannot be considered and will be returned to the applicant.
2. Complete the entire College of Law Supplemental Application thoroughly. An incomplete supplement cannot be considered and will be returned to the applicant.
3. Submit the non-refundable application fee of $50. Checks or money orders should be made payable to Belmont University.
4. Register with the LSAC Credential Assembly Service (CAS) - The Credential Assembly Service is administered by the Law School Admission Council and serves as a central collection agency of college transcripts required for law school admissions decisions. The Credential Assembly Service analyzes undergraduate work, combines the analysis with LSAT scores, and produces a CAS report for the College of Law. Registration with the Credential Assembly Service can be completed at the Law School Admission Council’s website at www.LSAC.org. You must submit all academic transcripts from any college or university attended to CAS.
5. Take the Law School Admission Test (LSAT)
6. Submit a personal statement - This statement should be a one or two page essay detailing why you are uniquely qualified to be a successful law student at Belmont University College of Law. You may cite experiences that have led you to the study of law and/or illustrate how you want to benefit the legal profession upon completing the Juris Doctor degree. The personal statement should be well written, thoughtful and original.

Admissions Requirements

Admission requirements are program specific. For a list of the admissions requirements, please visit the admissions website (http://www.belmont.edu/prospectivestudents/graduate/) and click on the program you wish to view. Applications for admission are also program specific so be sure to download and submit the application of the program to which you intended to apply. You can find a list of program applications at (http://www.belmont.edu/prospectivestudents/graduate/).

International Applicants

1. International applicants whose native language is not English must demonstrate proficiency in the English language by submitting official TOEFL scores (required minimum of 550 PBT or 80 iBT) or by successful completion of ELS Language Center Level 112.
2. International applicants with college level coursework from foreign institutions must have their transcripts evaluated by a credential evaluation service such as World Education Services (www.wes.org) or Joseph Silny & Associates (www.jsilny.com).
3. In order to be issued an I-20 for the desired entry term, international applicants must be admitted no later than June 1 in order to enroll for the fall term.

Background Information

Have you ever been found responsible for a disciplinary violation at any educational institution you have attended from 9th grade (or the international equivalent) forward, whether related to academic misconduct or behavioral misconduct that resulted in a disciplinary action? These actions could include, but are not limited to: probation, suspension, removal, dismissal or expulsion from the institution.

- Yes
- No

Have you ever been adjudicated guilty or convicted of a misdemeanor, felony or other crime? (Note that you are not required to answer “yes” to this question, or provide an explanation, if the criminal adjudication or conviction has been expunged, sealed, annulled, pardoned, destroyed, erased, impounded or otherwise ordered by a court to be kept confidential.)

- Yes
- No

If you answered “yes” to either or both questions, please attach a separate sheet of paper that gives the approximate date of each incident, explains the circumstances and reflects on what you learned from the experience.

Note: Applicants are expected to immediately notify the institutions to which they are applying should there be any changes to the information requested in this application, including disciplinary history.

References

College of Law applicants are not required to submit letters of reference.

For all other applicants, please list the name and address of two persons who know you (professionally and/or academically) and are willing to address your ability, interest and motivation for pursuing this program. Give each person a recommendation form and instruct them to return it directly to the admissions office. Your application cannot be reviewed until all references have been received.
