Belmont University Teaching Center

Form for Four Square

Ever wonder about the happenings in other classrooms and in other disciplines? Four Square can assist with your exploration!

This is a program to facilitate the scholarship of teaching through the observation of other colleagues. Faculty will be invited to submit their names to the Teaching Center. They would then be assigned to a group of Four (hence the name!). These four faculty members would arrange to visit each other’s classrooms and then meet at the end for a gathering that would include feedback and discussion of lessons learned. This is a form of group mentoring across disciplines.
